RateMyEstate — Production Module Responsibilities

Client: Castle Technology Solutions
Last updated: August 2026

This document describes what each part of the platform shows and what actions users can perform. It is written for business and operational use, not for developers.

1. Platform Overview

RateMyEstate is a property review platform where home buyers submit reviews of developments, builders manage their company profiles and properties, and administrators moderate content through an admin portal.

Application	URL
Public website	https://ratemyestate.castledigital.com.au
Admin portal	https://ratemyestatecms-react.castledigital.com.au

The platform has three main areas:

- Public website — where visitors browse reviews and reviewers submit feedback
- Builder portal — where builder/company users manage their business on the site
- Admin portal — where administrators approve content and manage the platform

2. User Roles & Access Boundaries

Role	Where they use the platform	What they can do
Admin	Admin portal	Manage all content, approve submissions, edit pages, view reports
Reviewer	Public website	Register, submit property reviews, manage personal profile
Builder	Public website (builder portal)	Manage company profile, properties, advertisements, team users, and reports
Public visitor	Public website	Browse reviews, properties, blogs, and static pages without logging in

7. Content Approval Process

Most user-generated content must be approved by an admin before it appears on the public website.

Content type	Submitted by	Admin action required	Visible on public site when
Review	Reviewer	Approve or reject	Approved
Property	Builder or review flow	Approve or reject	Approved
Company	Builder registration	Approve or reject	Approved
Builder account	Self-registration	Approve or reject	Approved
Advertisement	Builder	Approve or reject	Approved
Blog post	Admin	Publish from admin portal	Published

Until content is approved, it remains hidden from public visitors.

---

8. Email Notifications

The platform sends automated emails for key events:

- Account verification — when a new user registers
- Password reset — when a user requests a password reset
- Review submitted — notifies admins when a new review is waiting for approval
- Review approved — notifies the reviewer when their review goes live
- Company/builder registration — notifies relevant parties when a builder or company registers
- Builder approved — notifies the builder when their account is approved
- Display name change — notifies admin and user when a display-name request is submitted or decided
- User report — when a builder reports a problematic user

9. Key Business Rules

- Only reviewers can submit property reviews
- Only approved reviews, properties, companies, and advertisements are shown publicly
- Builders can only manage content linked to their own company
- Admins have full control over moderation, website content, and platform settings
- Review questions shown during submission depend on the property category selected
- Tags and rating attributes configured in the admin portal directly affect what reviewers see and select

This document covers the public website and admin portal as used in production. It does not cover internal development, hosting, or the legacy admin panel.
